

How To Turn Invisible, and Related Psychic Powers

To turn invisible, imagine what the space you occupy would look like without you. Hold the image, make sure it is vivid. Project the image telepathically into the brain(s) of whomever you want to fail to see you. Keep projecting the image into the psyche(s) of whomever the duration you want to remain invisible.

An easier way to turn invisible: when it is really dark, imagine black shadows covering up your location. Try to project the blackness into the minds of all new arrivals in the area, as they arrive, so there isn't an instant when they spot you.

To go unnoticed in a crowd, try to telepathically project the impression of lack of interest. Continue projecting into the minds you want to ignore you until the time to be ignored has passed.

A Warning

Individual experiences will be different.

I was talking to somebody that tried to explain to me how difficult telepathic communication is, that if not done just right, in a precise and focused and potent manner, telepathic communication doesn't go through - or goes through distorted, as noise.

Chakra Work, to Gain Faith

Meditate for a few weeks, while sitting down for ten or fifteen minutes at a time, on visualizing your bone and muscle structures glowing bright blue and green, as flames. When capable of maintaining this visualization for ten or fifteen minutes at a time, if a physical sensation ensues where the energy is visualized, try this:

Obtain a cat or dog (or even a rabbit). Wait for the animal to enter a state of relaxation. Visualize the flaming green and blue within the cat or dog's bone and muscle structure.

Maintain for a few minutes, stop, then start, off and on again every thirty seconds for five or ten minutes.

The first time I tried this experiment on a dog, it seemed like the dog shook violently only when I visualized the “chi” inside its body. This wouldn’t prove anything if videotaped. The camera can’t read your mind, and CGI is really advanced now anyhow. But it would provide you the reader with evidence of the existence of psychic phenomenon.

Gain Various Psychic Abilities

Create a list of every supernatural power, fictional or reputedly existent, you have ever heard of. Try to think of how each of them could possibly work, if real.

If you progress for a while along a mystical, initiatory, consciousness expanding, or otherwise magical path, come back to the list every once in a blue moon and choose psychic abilities to meditate on. Sit still in a comfortable posture and focus on one ability at a time, concentrate until you begin to creatively infer how the ability could possibly work. Or, if you can’t figure out how the ability conforms to scientific laws, how it might be possible to manifest it.
