

The abbreviation in role playing for in character is "ic" , and the Individuate Church is also abbreviated "IC". This has inspired me, or maybe I named it the Individuate Church so I could, to label everything generated by the Individuate Church as partially In Character.

This is really useful if your underground anarchist pursuits as an Individuate get you in trouble with the law, in terms of "putting your foot in your mouth". Suppose you are wire tapped before weed is legalized by a no tolerance policy DEA or local cop admitting to smoking pot. You could just say in court, "I'm an Individuate so everything I say or do is In Character."

For this to work, members of the Individuate Church have to agree to spontaneously role play every now and again. Live Action Role Play, starring anyone, happening anywhere.

Hopefully a whole new perspective on performance art will evolve.

It is also my aim that the audiences of the Individuate Church will never again take anything simply declared at face value, and will fact check all media sources. The news really could be In Character.
